

Tennessee Rejects Strong Resolution Against President

NASHVILLE, TENN., April 15 (AP) — The Tennessee State Democratic convention rejected a sharply worded anti-Truman resolution today in favor of a milder one leaving delegates to the national convention in Philadelphia uncommitted on the presidential nomination.

The convention adopted the resolution on a voice vote after an hour of debate. The resolution instructs the delegation of 40 to vote as a unit at Philadelphia.

The action of the committee, which was closely divided on the anti-Truman measure, was a defeat for Shelby county (Memphis) Democratic leader E. H. Crump, whose county delegation of more than 400 supported it.

The convention, however, selected Crump—who has announced his opposition to Truman both in the national convention and the general election—as one of 16 delegates at large to the July 12 national confab.

The anti-Truman resolution presented by Roane Waring of Memphis, a former national commander of the American Legion, was the minority report of four members of a 10-man resolutions committee. The resolution would have pledged the party's presidential elections to vote against him.

Balles' Plea for Bail Turned Down by Court

PHILADELPHIA, April 15 (AP) — The State Superior court has refused to permit release under bail of George W. Balles Jr., pending a ruling on his appeal for a new trial.

Balles was sentenced to serve 2½ to five years in Eastern penitentiary following his conviction this month on a charge of attempting to rape an 11-year-old girl pupil at the private school he formerly conducted. He also was fined $2000.

A hearing on the appeal has been set for Sept. 27. Monday Fred T. Cadmus, 3d, counsel for Balles, filed in Superior court a petition for a writ of superadeas.

The petition was denied in the court's order, signed by President Judge Chester H. Rhodes.

Trout Are Waiting

IT SEEMS like there's a new language being spoken around Pottstown this week, and a lot of strange and unusual words are being heard, but there's nothing to become alarmed about.

The language is seasonal, or topical for it pertains to the trout fishing season in Pennsylvania. This is the opening week.

It is a week that all Pennsylvania anglers move outdoors, and it's a much-looked-forward-to holiday. Trout can be caught at 5 a. m. any day now. The first day of the season was yesterday. Muddy streams kept down the catches, so there's still many a trout to be caught.

Followers of Izaak Walton have been making preparations for the trout opening for a long time. And they have been sort of looking over their favorite streams, too.

Fishing gear has been assembled and that's been the cause of the strange language of late as rods, lines, leaders, hooks, reels have been inspected, and such terms as Royal Coachman, March Brown, Hare's ear, deertail, and a hundred other special names for lures have been talked about by the ardent trout angler. Of course, just plain worms will have to suffice for some anglers.

The Pottstown area has a number of very popular trout streams and they have all been stocked with sizeable fish, thanks to the activity of sportsmen's groups and the cooperation of the state department of fisheries. And brook, brown and rainbow trout should be lured in satisfactory numbers.

The legal size is six inches and the day's catch limit is ten. And, most important, the fishing license cost $2.10. The season extends to July 31.

All anglers hope today's fishing day will break bright and clear.

Figures Tell the Story

THE furor and worry over high prices has produced some serious misconceptions. One of them is that inflation is very largely the result of excessive profits.

Exorbitant prices may have been charged in isolated cases, but that is not the practice of American industry as a whole. The businesses which produce, process and sell the great mass of consumer goods generally work on very modest margins.

An interesting example of that is reported by the meat packing industry, based on an analysis of figures issued by the Department of Agriculture.

Last year, good live steers brought an average price of about 26 cents a pound in the Chicago stockyards. Such steers yield about 58 percent beef, while 42 percent of the animal is waste and by-products. This means the cost of the dressed beef was around 45 cents a pound.

Yet the packers sold that beef, in New York, for an average price of 42 cents a pound, after paying all expenses of preparation, chilling, refrigerated transportation, delivery to retailers, and other costs. Commercial and utility grades of beef sold at wholesale for less.

Selling beef apparently below cost is not a work of magic. The difference was made up by maximum utilization of such by-products as trimmings, hides, glands, fat, etc. The value of these by-products is always credited to the beef itself, thus making it possible to pay more for cattle than is obtained for the meat. The meat packers operate on a profit margin of only a fraction of a cent per pound.

The processing of beef, from the time it leaves the producer until it is delivered to the consumer in its manifold forms, is a story of incredible efficiency. It is a story that is typical of industrial America.

The meat industry is an integral part of a free economic system that has carried the United States farther toward the ultimate goal of human betterment than ever before in this or any other country.

Death and Drivers

WITH a horrifying, predictable certainty the highway death toll mounts, both in the state and the nation.

A drunk lurches out from behind two cars and is killed.

A driver following a truck tries to pass on a hill and meets another car head-on. Sudden death!

Have our highways become by common conspiracy a place where we forget our common courtesies and thoughtfulness of others?

The golden rule of doing unto others as you would have others do unto you is as applicable to your driving as to anything else.

Scruples Took a Hind Seat

To the Editor: Your fine article explaining the financial and physical condition of the Pottstown water works, in my opinion, pointed up these things:

1. Borough officials know now what they suspected when the assets of the Pottstown Gas and Water company were purchased — that they took over an antiquated, run-down utility that had been bled to death by its owners.

2. In the short time of borough operation, an effort has been made to make improvements that normally would have been undertaken over a 10-year period. This is costly in any business and, coupled with bonded indebtedness, means that operation at a loss is almost inevitable.

3. The integrity and ethical procedure of the men who administered the old water company during the 10 years in which its purchase was negotiated are open to serious question. Surely the duty of public service of a utility was not fulfilled, plus the knowledge that the taxpayers of Pottstown eventually would have to bear the burden that came from intentional neglect.

So the borough has been fleeced. But it wanted the water company and the more prolonged the negotiations, the bigger the cat in the bag would have grown.

We can be happy — yes, very happy — that improvements in the water, the service and repair of equipment already are under way. But perhaps the current operations in the "red" should emphasize one thing: Improvements can't be made overnight.

Regimentation in Music

To the Editor: Talk about a regimented society! I really have it when a union can keep our school band out of a fireman's parade. Boys and girls, in the most formative years of their lives, find that they can't take part in a musical event because they're considered "competition" to union musicians.

If any of these young musicians had any thoughts of continuing in careers in music, such a demonstration of what they'll get into might easily change their minds. I've heard that music's true expression is found only in a world of freedom.

Is this freedom? Only the freedom the Germans knew under Hitler.

Reticence Puzzles Him

To the Editor: In answer to S. A. D.'s letter (Readers Say, Apr. 13), concerning the Gerald Wenzel case, frankly I agree with Anonymous (Readers Say, Apr. 12), that if the murderer had been anybody else, the case wouldn't have been dragged out so long.

If Wenzel didn't do it, why is he so quiet about it? I also say, let him suffer. He deserves every bit of it for cheating in the first place.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
WHEN OUR youngest child, David, was 20 months old, he still had brown curls.

Finally, his mother agreed to take him to a barber shop. If it didn't, she threatened to let it grow out.

David was a little fatty, with a mass of short brown curls. His mother argued that he was still a baby, and to have a haircut, would make him look too grown up. He wouldn't be a baby any more!

She didn't like to think of her last baby growing away from the dependent state of infancy. This attitude is quite typical of motherhood.

And as she sat in the barber shop, two big tears rolled down her cheeks as the electric clippers sheared off his curls. For he came out of the chair a straight-haired little boy. Her last baby was gone!

DAVID HAD already been mistaken for a little girl because of his curls. It was time, therefore, for him to assume his rightful position in society.

To force a boy to dress like a Little Lord Fauntleroy or to wear curls until he enters school, is arch inhumanity.

Mrs. Crane would never have gone that far with her sentimental attachment, even without my urging, but many doting mothers will force their children to dress to suit "mamma's" whims, even through-out grammar school.

Boys thus endure the taunts of their playmates, or suffer social ostracism. They may even be forced into a wall-flower existence by such early maternal torture, or else become chronic fighters, as a means of compensation.

This would obviously be a very dull world if there were no sentiment and if women were suddenly eliminated from this earth, much of the artistic and cultural elements would be gone, for women are custodians of culture.

Men tend to scoff at woman's tenderheartedness. They try to show disdain for many so-called feminine follies.

But secretly they admire the women who remain sweet and unselfish, sympathetic and capable of shedding a tear over such an event as having a baby's curls cut off.

Women who erroneously ape men, and cultivate masculine hardness, as by using "barber" drinking liquor, cursing, telling risqué stories, and gambling on the horses, are winning their own doom.

For men don't like masculine women! Incidentally, women don't like feminine males, either.

There is a pattern for femininity, as well as for masculinity. Despite his mother's tears, therefore, David must begin fitting himself into the pattern of the male.

Life is a moving, dynamic process of education in which we graduate from one experience to the next beyond it. Don't let your parental sentimentality fetter your child's psychological growth. Children like to be normal!

So don't make sissies or misfits out of them or let them to your apron strings. Bury a mother's tears of regret than a child's tears of anguish or social humiliation!

Send for me 100-point "Test for a Good Mother" enclosing a 3c stamped envelope, plus a dime.

WASHINGTON

No Punches Are Pulled In Armed Forces Plea

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, April 15 — The immediate size and shape of this country's land, air and naval establishment has already been fixed in the minds of key members of Congress after a month of frank discussion of the prospective world emergency in closed sessions with top level representatives of the National Defense Department, which now embraces all our fighting units. No punches were pulled at these sessions by anxious M.C.'s or by equally worried leaders like Secretary Forrestal, Secretary Marshall, Chief of Staff Bradley and for-mer Air Chief Carl Spaatz. Aside from classified data on strictly military secrets, there is no reason why this information should not be made available to the American public.

The program for preparing our fighting forces for any clash was not presented at a single session or before any single committee. For more than a month, or ever since the Czechoslovakian coup, the battle over Berlin and the Bogota disorders, the men in charge of national security have been commuting between the Pentagon building in Virginia and Capitol Hill.

Laden with brief cases, they have appeared before such committees as appropriations, armed services, foreign affairs and relations and special groups mornings and afternoons, with hardly any time out for lunch. A composite of their warnings follows:

RUSSIA: "Let's cut out the kidding, Mr. Secretary," began the chairman of one of these committees with almost shocking frankness. "The White House, the State Department and you have asked us for an unprecedented, peacetime investment in national defense. In public statements, however, you have been extremely diplomatic as to our objective—our possible enemy. We can't afford to shoot in the dark. So, what country do you have in mind?"

"Russia, of course," was the quick and unflinching answer.

"How soon do you expect a war?" "I can't answer that. It may be five years or five months. But we must be ready for anything at any time, and we are not ready now. That is why I am here."

AIR: "Assuming that such factors as finances and resources are not a limiting factor, the major operations would come first, Mister Secretary, which do you think should have priority?"

"Air, by all means," was the almost unanimous reply.

"Why?"

"Because air superiority might determine the outcome in a few months and prevent a long-drawn-out conflict. It would certainly enable us to defend our own industrial and transportation centers, and possible to destroy the enemy's."

"It is obvious that, in a war with Russia, there would be no clash of major land armies for a long time. Air skirmishing and major operations would come first. And we don't have to worry about her navy except for the new, Schnorkel-type submarines."

Those answers explain why the military and naval air units will probably get the bulk of forthcoming defense appropriations expected to total at least $15,000,000,000 for 1949, possibly more.

BOMBERS: The next series of questions went to the heart of the problem involved in the transformation of our World War II air force into a long-ranging and speedy unit equipped with all the scientific improvements discovered since 1944 and 1945. In other words, how can the U. S. shift from B29 bombers to jet and turbo-jet planes without leaving ourselves air-weak in the meantime?

The not so simple explanation is that we have many B29's in storage, and can return them to service in about one year. The advanced bombers we need are the B36's and B50's in a hurry. With the air refueling technique developed many years ago by stunt fliers—the Kee brothers — and now adopted by the Air Force, they can carry a pay load at longer range than ever before.

From such stationary airfields as Britain or Japan, or even from centers closer to Russia's industrial areas, or from carriers, they can fly 2000 miles with a sizeable bomb load and still have sufficient gasoline for a 2000-mile return trip to an airport or carrier.

Meanwhile, at least a third of the funds allotted to aviation will be used for research and development of jet-propelled fighters and turbo-jet bombers. In both categories the Russians are not believed to be any more advanced than the U. S. It will probably be 1950 or 1951 before these types can be perfected and produced in volume.

DRAFT: Despite President Truman's repeated recommendations for adoption of Universal Military Training, almost every military spokesman declared in favor of an immediate draft if it came to a choice between the two systems in preparing for a showdown with Russia.

They pointed out that men inducted into the armed forces can be trained more quickly and thoroughly than youngsters selected for a UMT course. They can be rushed through their preliminary hardening, and then shunted into the specialized services which a modern army, navy and air force needs.

They emphasized that there is a great difference in mental attitude between draft and trainees. They seemed to regard the former as prospective professionals and the latter as dilettantes.

They want UMT as a long-range reservoir, and as the basis for future recruits. But, despite their public statements in accord with the White House program, they do not envisage this system as even a partial answer in the present or prospective emergency.

mer Air Chief Carl Spaatz. Aside from classified data on strictly military secrets, there is no reason why this information should not be made available to the American public.

The program for preparing our fighting forces for any clash was not presented at a single session or before any single committee. For more than a month, or ever since the Czechoslovakian coup, the battle over Berlin and the Bogota disorders, the men in charge of national security have been commuting between the Pentagon building in Virginia and Capitol Hill.

Laden with brief cases, they have appeared before such committees as appropriations, armed services, foreign affairs and relations and special groups mornings and afternoons, with hardly any time out for lunch. A composite of their warnings follows:

RUSSIA: "Let's cut out the kidding, Mr. Secretary," began the chairman of one of these committees with almost shocking frankness. "The White House, the State Department and you have asked us for an unprecedented, peacetime investment in national defense. In public statements, however, you have been extremely diplomatic as to our objective—our possible enemy. We can't afford to shoot in the dark. So, what country do you have in mind?"

"Russia, of course," was the quick and unflinching answer.

"How soon do you expect a war?" "I can't answer that. It may be five years or five months. But we must be ready for anything at any time, and we are not ready now. That is why I am here."

AIR: "Assuming that such factors as finances and resources are not a limiting factor, the major operations would come first, Mister Secretary, which do you think should have priority?"

"Air, by all means," was the almost unanimous reply.

"Why?"

"Because air superiority might determine the outcome in a few months and prevent a long-drawn-out conflict. It would certainly enable us to defend our own industrial and transportation centers, and possible to destroy the enemy's."

"It is obvious that, in a war with Russia, there would be no clash of major land armies for a long time. Air skirmishing and major operations would come first. And we don't have to worry about her navy except for the new, Schnorkel-type submarines."

Those answers explain why the military and naval air units will probably get the bulk of forthcoming defense appropriations expected to total at least $15,000,000,000 for 1949, possibly more.

BOMBERS: The next series of questions went to the heart of the problem involved in the transformation of our World War II air force into a long-ranging and speedy unit equipped with all the scientific improvements discovered since 1944 and 1945. In other words, how can the U. S. shift from B29 bombers to jet and turbo-jet planes without leaving ourselves air-weak in the meantime?

The not so simple explanation is that we have many B29's in storage, and can return them to service in about one year. The advanced bombers we need are the B36's and B50's in a hurry. With the air refueling technique developed many years ago by stunt fliers—the Kee brothers — and now adopted by the Air Force, they can carry a pay load at longer range than ever before.

From such stationary airfields as Britain or Japan, or even from centers closer to Russia's industrial areas, or from carriers, they can fly 2000 miles with a sizeable bomb load and still have sufficient gasoline for a 2000-mile return trip to an airport or carrier.

U. N. Council Fails To Produce Truce in Holy Land Warfare

LAKE SUCCESS, April 15 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council failed tonight to agree on a truce to stop fighting and bloodshed in Palestine. The council will try again tomorrow.

The Jewish agency for Palestine rejected the truce proposal that was warmly backed by the United States, Colombia and Canada.

The Arab higher committee for Palestine did not commit itself but the ranking Arab spokesman on the council said he would accept the truce plan with some iron-clad conditions.

THE COUNCIL finally gave up at 6:10 p. m. after Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, declared he had not received his instructions on how to vote on the proposal.

Gromyko and the Soviet Ukraine delegate, Vassily A. Tarasenko, declared the Jewish agency objections must be thoroughly considered.

The agency demanded, in effect, a truce on its own terms.

It said the truce proposal before the United Nations Security Council "appeared to load the dice very heavily against the Jews."

MOSHE SHERTOK, head of the political department of the agency, outlined his views to the council but did not commit the agency against any truce. In a 30-minute speech he blasted the pending proposal and the British administration in Palestine.

Faris El Khoury of Syria, Arab country spokesman in the council, then said he would accept the American-supported proposal with the understanding there would be no political changes in Palestine and that Jewish immigration would be halted.

By political changes, El Khoury referred to the Zionist plans to set up a separate country in Jewish-held areas in the Holy Land after the British terminate their mandate May 15. Shertok demanded the council strike off all reference to the political situation.

THE COUNCIL debated the truce for Palestine in a desperate effort to achieve that result before the second special session of the United Nations assembly on Palestine opening tomorrow at 11 a. m. in Flushing Meadow park, New York City.

While delegates talked here, violence continued on an increasing scale in the Holy Land. Jews in Jerusalem claimed a "decisive victory" over an Arab army in northern Palestine.

Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate who had a big hand in drawing up the truce proposal, reminded the delegates the council must stop the fighting and prevent massacres.

Reds Blamed as 10 Die in Powder Blast

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 15 (AP)—A powder depot explosion killed ten persons today and Communists were blamed.

Deputy Alfonso de Carvalho told the Chamber of Deputies the blast resulted from Communist sabotage. Other sources who asked not to be quoted by name said, however, a carelessly thrown cigarette might have set it off.

Nearly 100 workers in a factory near the Brazilian army depot were injured when the roof was wrecked by the force of the explosion and caved in. Large fires in other nearby establishments created near panic among residents.

Also charged with traveling west on West High street at a high rate of speed on a wet road is Robert L. Moyer, Blandon. Moyer was arrested between Beiks street and the borough line by Hahn at 7:28 o'clock Thursday morning, April 8. For passing a line of cars and forcing one off the road, Michael Barbara, will receive a summons

Dewey Denies Agreement With Taft or Delegates

ALBANY, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey denied through an aide today that he had made any "deal" with Senator Robert A. Taft in connection with the Republican presidential nomination.

Dewey's secretary at the same time asserted that Harold E. Stassen, winner over Dewey in the Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries, was "apparently having an attack of candidate-itis."

The governor's office said there was a "report" Stassen had said in Ohio today that Dewey and Taft had conferred recently.

Paul E. Lockwood issued this statement:

"Mr. Stassen is apparently having an attack of candidate-itis."

"The governor and Senator Taft have had no meeting nor have they had any discussion, either publicly or privately, directly or indirectly."

"Any report of such a meeting is wholly untrue."

Reading Appeals $15,882 Damages In Girl's Loss of Eye

PHILADELPHIA, April 15 (AP) — The City of Reading and the Reading school district today asked the State Supreme court to set aside a $15,882.50 award to a girl who suffered loss of an eye in an accident at school.

The court reserved decision on the appeal.

City Solicitor C. Wilson Austin argued the city was not responsible for the accident which cost Ann Marie Styler, 17, an eye on July 22, 1942. He argued that the Berks county court which awarded her $15,000 plus $882.50 for her parents had received "no evidence of negligence" on the part of the city.

And Austin and Assistant City Solicitor Elliott B. Goldstein argued the girl was "guilty of contributory negligence," that "the injury was caused by impulsive independent intervening act" of a boy with whom she was playing.

Testimony at the trial, the city attorneys said, showed that the girl, who was 12 years old at the time, went to school at 14th and Haak streets. Reading to play on the school volleyball team. Later she entered the school and began batting a badminton shuttlecock back and forth with Richard von Neida. After a short time she told him she wanted to "quit," and tossed the shuttlecock to him.

HE BATTED IT back with such force, the city attorneys said that it struck her and caused injuries which necessitated removal of the eye.

Attorney Charles H. Weidner, representing the girl and her family, argued that the city, "knowing of this dangerous practice (of playing at the school) was bound to anticipate that sooner or later some child would get hurt if the practice was not stopped."

The city, he continued, "could easily have supplied a box or other container, with lock and key, so that the badminton equipment would have been available only upon request of the playground leader and when it was intended to be used outside under proper conditions."

Weidner contended that the question of whether or not the girl exercised proper care was for the jury to decide. And he said the charge that the boy had not "wantonly" driven the shuttlecock, that he was "engrossed in the play" which is "not the case where the play had stopped for some time and a child suddenly and impulsively bats it in some direction across the room."

Police Probing Death of 3 by Poison

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP) Police today delved into the background of a household in which three deaths have been traced to poisoning.

The victims were Charles Sasko, 62, his wife, Mary, about 65, and their boarder, Albert Batz, 68. A coroner's jury found that Mrs. Sasko's death Feb. 2 was caused by barbiturate and strychnine poisoning. But the jury left unanswered the question of whether she was slain.

Sasko and Batz died within a 12-day period the past December and their bodies were cremated. Gus Bartels, state's attorney's investigator, said enough arsenic to have caused death has been found in their ashes.

At the time, Sasko's death was attributed to heart disease and Batz' death to stomach cancer. Their ashes were sifted by Dr. Walter Camp, University of Illinois toxicologist, after the finding of poisoning in Mrs. Sasko's remains.

Mrs. Sasko inherited her husband's small life insurance policy left to Batz. The latter had lived in the Sasko home for 20 years.

Local Authorities Get State Order on Deaths in Lockups

HARRISBURG, April 15 (AP)—Local authorities were directed today to make prompt written reports to the State welfare department on suicides, homicides, escapes and sudden deaths in lockups.

The order was included in new regulations promulgated by the department's bureau of corrections with the approval of the State welfare commission and made public by Welfare Secretary Charles R. Barber.

Separate standards were set by the bureau and commission for county jails and for lockups operated by cities, boroughs and township authorities for detention of prisoners or the punishment of persons convicted of summary offenses.

BARBER EXPLAINED that the standards bring together "policies already in effect" in the department. The State agency is charged with inspection of all lockups and jails. He said any refusal by local authorities to abide by the regulations would be referred to the justice department for proper action.

Fred W. Brady, director of corrections, sent out the standards for local lockups to local officials this week. Barber said those adopted for county jails differed only on technical matters.

"A complete and thorough checkup of all the salient features of these institutions is not only recommended but necessary," Brady told local officials in a letter accompanying a copy of the new regulations.

IN ADDITION to the requirement for written reports on escapes and deaths, the regulations on lockup supervision of inmates 24 hours a day; ban detention of juveniles under 16 years; require complete segregation of sexes; and give physicians full power to order removal of any ailing inmates to hospitals.

The new rules also fix standards for ventilation, heating, lighting, drinking and sanitation facilities and require a cot or bunk in each individual cell.

Reds Rumored Moving Tanks Into Berlin Zone

BERLIN, April 15 (AP)—The western sectors of Berlin sprouted with rumors today that the Russians had moved more than 100 tanks, some of the Stalin type, into the southeastern outskirts of the city.

An Associated Press reporter and photographer who toured the area where the tanks were supposed to be found no sign of them, and no one who had seen them.

Out in the Ebersdorf and Mahlsdorf districts, where the rumors said the tanks had been seen, the Germans were just too busy to be bothered by the stories. It's garden time there.

"It's possible," one old German said as he hoed a small vegetable plot. "The Russians have lots of tanks, I guess. But I haven't seen any and don't want to see any."

Pull Flier From Crash Wreckage

An arrow points to the arm of pilot Jackson G. Armstrong as rescue workers on ladders extricate him from the wreckage of his crashed plane at Venice, Calif. While coming in for a landing in a Navy Douglas torpedo bomber, he overshot a runway, struck the ground and bounced to the roof of a small house near Clover field. Two small children playing on the porch were slightly injured in the accident.

Mediation Agreement Accepted by Union In Effort to End Stock Exchange Walkout

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—Members of the AFL United Financial employees voted today to accept a mediation agreement and settle their strike against the New York stock exchange.

The curb board of governors will meet tomorrow to vote on the agreement.

Terms of the agreement, reached today by union and curb representatives at a Federal mediation conference, were not revealed.

Emil Schram, president of the stock exchange, had no comment on the union-curb agreement but said big board officials and union representatives would meet at the Federal mediator's office tomorrow afternoon.

AT ISSUE WERE wages and union security. The union pay demands included $9 to $15 a week increases in the varying wage brackets. The curb had offered a 10 percent cost of living bonus for a year.

Both stock and curb officials have said they would not discharge employees for not joining a union. The clause the workers sought would require such discharge.

In a recent settlement between the union and the New York Cotton exchange, a clause provided that present non-union employees would not have to join, but new employees would after a stated period.

Agreement between the union and curb came on the 18th day of the strike, which twice has resulted in police-picket battles on Wall street at an entrance to the stock exchange.

ALL DURING the strike picket lines have been padded with members of two AFL seamen's unions—the Seafarers International union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific.

More than 200 employees are involved in the strike against the curb.

The union asked $9 increases for workers receiving less than $40 a week and $15 for those getting $40 or more. The existing rates at both exchanges, the union said, are $27 to $102 weekly.

The stock exchange has offered $3, $4 and $5 increases for various wage brackets.

Stalemate Grips Phoenixville Strike

A statement in which it was indicated no progress has been made, was released by a spokesman for the A. P. de Sanno and Son, Inc. firm, Phoenixville, yesterday, regarding a strike which has been in effect at the plant.

The strike ended its seventh day yesterday, with only the office force and supervisors at work. Picketing at the main gate continued.

Two negotiation meetings have been held during the week between Local 372 United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers of America (CIO) and the firm.

The statement given out by the firm's spokesman said substantially: "Representatives of the company and the Local met Tuesday and Wednesday, with Adie S. Rush, of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, presiding.

"The company regrets that it can report no progress on the monetary issues which appear to be the primary cause of the dispute. Other issues have been discussed further and the company believes that these may be settled satisfactorily. The situation at this time is essentially the same as reported in our previous statements."

Mascot of Seabees Told to Ride Bicycle

PHILADELPHIA, April 15 (AP)—Eleven-year-old Jimmy Carrick, national mascot of the Navy's Seabees, got the okay today to ride a bicycle.

Little Jimmy, bedridden until recently with a spinal ailment that struck him at the age of two, has never been on a bike.

Dr. John Royal Moore, chief surgeon of the Shriners hospital for crippled children where Jimmy spent 18 months on his back, gave the youngster the go-ahead. He was brought here from his Pittsburgh home by his parents for a checkup.

"Dr. Moore was very, very much pleased," said Mrs. Louis Carrick, Jimmy's mother. "He told Jimmy to go home and ride a bicycle."

Jimmy's courage and cheerfulness during his illness won him the admiration of the nation. The Seabees made him their mascot.

After the medical checkup, Jimmy and his parents visited the Philadelphia Naval base. He looked up his Navy and Seabee friends and told them thanks again for their kindness.

Pottstown State Stores and Bars Stocking Up With 100 Proof Popular Priced Whiskey

Right now, over 100,000 bottles of Four Queens whiskey—recently received by district warehouses of the Liquor Control Board, are being distributed in the State Stores. In view of the price conditions, all local bars are also stocking up on bargain priced Four Queens 100 Proof Whiskey, expecting a run on this popular brand.

Kaiser Distillers, producers of Four Queens, are determined to fight inflated prices by releasing adequate supplies from their reserve stocks in government bonded warehouses. Kaiser spokesmen declared that they will make every effort possible to see to it that adequate shipments of Four Queens will continue to be made regularly in order to satisfy the unprecedented demand. This should come as welcome news to quality conscious men who want the best at reasonable prices. 100 Proof Whiskey—A Blend, produced by Kaiser Distillers Products Corp., Phila., Pa., seventy percent grain neutral spirits... advt.

Pilot, Three Chinese Nabbed in Smuggling Of Aliens Into U. S.

MIAMI, Fla., April 15 (AP)—The arrest of a Miami flight instructor and three New York City Chinese charged with smuggling aliens into the United States from Cuba was announced today by the immigration border patrol.

Frank Hornyak, border patrol chief in Miami, listed them as Edward W. Murphy, 34, of Miami, arrested here and released under $500 bond, and Peter Chu Twai, Chin Toy, and Chin Du Foo, arrested in New York.

Hornyak said the Chinese will be brought to Miami for prosecution.

Murphy admitted that he made five flights from Cuba to Chicago, Philadelphia and New York. Hornyak said, bringing in 19 Chinese and four Europeans, for which he received from $600 to $1500 each.

THE IMMIGRATION official said the "head" of the reported smuggling ring had not been arrested but is under close watch by border patrol agents.

In Washington, the Justice department reported a number of aliens, including some Chinese and some Europeans alleged to have been brought in by illicit methods, have been rounded up.

The department said most of these aliens intended to go to New York City and vicinity.

The number of aliens held was not disclosed, but the department said those in custody are being held as possible witnesses against Murphy and for deportation.

Watson B. Miller, commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, said in Washington the inquiry "may lead to disclosure of other evasions of our immigration laws."

Taft and McCarthy Continue Feud Over Long Range Housing Program

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) raised the cry of "politics" in the Senate today as he and Senator Taft (R-Ohio) continued their feud over the Taft - Ellender - Wagner long range housing bill.

The dispute was interrupted long enough for the Senate to reject by voice vote one proposal that builders be given a special income tax cut to encourage construction of new homes to rent.

Then Taft and McCarthy resumed their argument. It continued until Taft, at McCarthy's request, agreed to put off until Monday a vote on pending amendments backed by Taft.

THE T-E-W BILL, which President wants passed quickly, is intended to spur the building of new homes. Its supporters say the goal is 15,000,000 by 1958.

Taft is offering one set of amendments approved by the Senate banking committee. McCarthy today got another set approved by the Senate itself, but the okay came on a parliamentary maneuver by Taft.

In winning a delay until Monday, McCarthy said he wanted time to prepare his own amendments to those offered by Taft.

Navy Selects Subs For Cargo Duty

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The Navy today named some of the submarines it plans to convert for special use to carry "mystery" cargo and troops.

The Barbero, a 1525-ton Balao class craft, will be the Navy's first undersea cargo carrier.

The Sea Lion will be converted for transport use and the Tigrone will be a radar picket submarine. Both the Sea Lion and Tigrone are of the Balao class. All three subs were built in 1944.

The Navy never has revealed what sort of troops and cargo it is going to carry in submarines.

The best guess has been that small parties of Marines or commando-type soldiers would be landed secretly from the troop-carrying subs and that the cargo-carrying submarines would bring along field guns and heavy equipment for the troops.

and race off the stage. Ted Stouch and Charles Morgan took first.

The next was the peanut pushing race, with the nose as a pusher. Three peanuts were pushed, one by one. Interesting techniques, such as the surreptitious finger flick and blowing and pushing with the whole face, came to light. The winners were Paul Moyer and Robert Swavely.

The climax was, of course, the pie-eating contest. Strawberry tarts with whipped cream were used. The results defied description. Although it was superfluous to give prizes, the winners, a crumb ahead of the other nine entrants, were Ezra Clifford and Frank Harrison.

RED SWAVELEY and the boys then took over. They were awarded vigorous whistling applause after each number.

The session ended with the showing of movies of the Louis-Walcott fight and a Richard Dix western.

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock, in the Eagles' ballroom, girls of the Senior High school will escort boys to a Leap Year dance.

The series of affairs is being sponsored by the Optimist club.

AIR FORCE —

dent Truman and Air Secretary Symington was made public at a news conference.

The President said he is supporting to the limit Defense Secretary Forrestal's "balanced" defense program with its 55-group Air Force.

The administration program outlined by Mr. Truman and Forrestal, calls for a temporary selective service, universal military training and expansion of the Army, Navy and Air Forces.

Committees in both House and Senate have been studying a draft UMT measure, but demands for a greatly expanded Air Force have delayed action.

Mr. Truman came out flatly for the original program. He said the expanded but balanced defense program outlined by Forrestal had been agreed to by all of the services.

One reporter said the differences between Symington and Forrestal point to a lack of unification in the armed forces.

Taft Urges Wage Control To Help Curb Strikes

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Senator Taft told the American Society of Newspaper Editors tonight that strikes cannot be prohibited unless the government fixes wages.

The Ohio Republican, candidate for his party's presidential nomination, was one of five members of Congress who reviewed the work of the 80th Congress.

"The Taft-Hartley law is still under trial," he said, "but I think we can say it has achieved a great deal of success."

Taft said there was no intention in the labor act to prohibit strikes, and added that a prohibition against strikes must necessarily be accompanied by wage fixing and then general government control.

DR. BUSHONG —

vanian Dutch pronunciation "Bushong" came to be used.

After graduating from Franklin and Marshall college, he attended the Jefferson Medical school in Philadelphia. He was graduated in 1907 after serving as vice president of the Coplin Pathological society. Ranking among the top ten men in his class, he also was a member of Alpha Omega Alpha, an honor fraternity.

Dr. Bushong's first medical experience was gained as resident physician at the Pottstown hospital in the year after his graduation. He was married on July 4, 1908, three days after his residency ended. He later served four years as president of the hospital staff.

For six years, he and Mrs. Bushong resided at 133 King street before moving to their present home.

DR. BUSHONG specialized in surgery and obstetrics. With Dr. C. R. Ellicker, he was recognized in the Pennsylvania Medical Journal in 1934 for performing a shoulder operation utilizing a ligament to bind the bones together.

For the past few years, however, his work has been chiefly as a consultant.

Mr. Bushong was a member of the First Presbyterian church and of the now disbanded King street club, a social group which met each week at a member's home.

He is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. Jeanette Duffenbaugh, Lancaster.

Private funeral services will be held Monday from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street. Officiating will be the Rev. A. Burtus Hallock Jr., pastor of First Presbyterian church.

Interment will be made in Mt. Zion cemetery.

border nor have there been any confirmed reports of Russian aircraft crossing the border of Alaska.

THE AIR FORCE also denied a report that a B29 bomber which crashed in Alaska the past Dec. 24 had been hit by a Russian shell.

In answer to a reporter's questions, the Air Force said an investigation of the loss of the B29 showed it was the result of pilot error.

The Army's announcement today said the new units being sent to Alaska "will bring into balance" the forces there.

At present "about 60 percent of the garrison are air and the remainder Army service troops," it said. It called this a considerable shortage of ground combat troops.

Other Firestone factories are situated in Akron, Memphis, Tenn.; Des Moines, Ia.; Newcastle, Nodulesville, Ind.; and Los Angeles.

But he emphasized poor bicycle traffic habits are carried over directly to motor vehicles.

"The sooner they get started the right way, the better it will be," he declared.

M McCabe believed his students may bring the question of the bicycle ordinance up in class when they began discussion of local government in the near future.

VARSAITY CLUB —

tering better fellowship among former students of the Pottstown High school.

AMONG ITS CHIEF activities was the awarding each year at Commencement time of a plaque to the high school's "most outstanding athletes."

During the war years, plaques were unavailable, but the awards continued until 1946. The directors, however, had set aside money to get the plaques. So, before the club officially disbanded, it will make belated awards to the past five winners: Gerald Egolf, Allen Levenson, Henry Stokro, John Henry and David Detar.

The club also sponsored amateur baseball, basketball and bowling teams, and the crimson and gray jerseys of the former high school athletes, with a big "V" on the front and "Varsity Club" on the back, were a familiar sight to local sports fans.

The club had its meeting rooms in several high street locations, most recently in the second floor of 238 High street.

WHEN THE CLUB saw it was going the way of most social clubs founded by young, single men who later marry and raise families, the members decided to stop short while they had fond memories and a surplus.

They turned the quarters over to Pottstown Post 23, Amvets, about a year ago.

Past presidents of the organization were Allen K. Davidheiser, Herbert Borger and D. Hunter Klink.

In addition to Bechtel, its present officers are George Steiner, vice president, Benjamin Bradley, secretary-treasurer; Charles E. Fagley, auditor, and Harry Bradley Robert Gloom, Robert Hackman and Adam Saylor, directors.

Life members included Gene Venke, former Pottstown athlete and a cold-famous mile runner; Capt. Douglas V. O'Dell and Harry Bradley, club members wounded in action, and Carroll L. Rutter, who contributed his services as attorney to the club's charities.

Other members of the club that voted away its $6000 are P. D. Ammon, Borger, Frank Christman, Dr. Ernest Dengler, Leonard Hatfield, D. Hunter Klink, Lloyd Leh, Jack Leblang, Daniel Marquette, Jules O'Dell, Robert Prince, Lawrence Ruth, Walter Sakiewicz and George Steiner.

U. S. Won't Modify Visa System, U. N. Told

GENEVA, Switzerland, April 15 (AP)—The United States will not permit any basic modification of its visa system, according to a report of the United Nations transport and communications commission published today.

The 150-page report was compiled from replies sent by various governments to a United Nations questionnaire regarding the simplification of passport and visa formalities throughout the world.

A group of technical experts prepared specific recommendations in April 1947, on which the government's replies were based.

The American reply said the United States government accepted most of the recommendations, which conformed with present practices of the United States, but certain suggestions for abolition or modification of visa requirements were unacceptable.

Hedy Lamarr Sues Magazine for $200,000

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 15 (AP)—Hedy Lamarr of the movies filed a $200,000 suit against Look magazine today, alleging that a Look article makes it appear she had her nose altered by plastic surgery.

Attorney Jerry Giesler filed the action, which alleges that the actress' reputation for natural beauty has been damaged, along with her standing before the film public and her three children.

The suit said a Look article in the April 13 issue, entitled "A new face through plastic surgery," used two photographs of the actress and "represents them as typical examples of a 'before and after' case history."

"The article," it goes on, "states that this plaintiff had nasal plastic (rhinoplasty) performed on and infers that the two photos are illustrations of this fact."

THE TRACTOR then slipped partially into the ditch, but Kear was saved from being crushed to death by a section of pipe that stopped the uncontrollable machine.

He was taken to the hospital by Raymond L. Ricketts Jr., of 563 Grant street, who is a truck driver employed on the pipeline construction project.

Although approximately 150 men work on the pipelaying job, only a dozen were within the immediate vicinity when Kear was injured, according to O. L. Martin, of Johnsonburg, Elk county, local foreman.

The natural gas line is being laid under the supervision of the Williams brothers company of Tulsa, Okla.

It was on the same line, at Perkio-mennville RD. that a box of dynamite was exploded accidentally the past Tuesday afternoon. No one was injured and damage was limited to a destroyed air compressor and 41 shattered panes of glass in a nearby house.

Man Killed, Five Hurt As Truck Crashes, Burns

BEAVER FALLS, April 15 (AP)—One man was killed, five persons injured, and two homes destroyed by fire here today when a trailer truck failed to negotiate a turn at the bottom of Steffen's hill.

Police said William Stanward, 84, of Beaver Falls, was crushed to death in his back yard when steel sheets tumbled from the truck. The injured taken to Providence General hospital were Paul Pace, Detroit, Mich., driver of the truck; Mrs. Mary Miller, 43, and her daughter, Carolyn, 21, Stanward's wife and Charles Garvin, 72, in the Stanward home at the time.

The truck careened into the Miller and Stanward homes which caught fire in the explosion that followed when the truck burst into flames.

Mrs. Miller, hurled out of bed, and her daughter, knocked against the wall, were rescued by firemen. Damage to the houses was estimated at $20,000 by police who placed damage to the truck at $15,000.

Ohio River Recedes To Ease Threat of High Flood Damage

CINCINNATI, April 15 (AP)—The Ohio river's April floodwaters began falling today in the first 50 of its 181 miles. The worst was over in that area and the threat of greater damage downstream was thereby lessened.

The river reached a crest short of 30 feet deep, not quite five feet over flood stage, early today at Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle, then started to drop slowly. The Ohio starts there, where the Allegheny and Monongahia rivers meet.

A few hours later the rise stopped at East Liverpool, O., 42 miles downstream and across the river from the tip of the West Virginia panhandle.

FROM BELOW THERE to the mouth at Cairo, Ill., the Ohio was rising. But the rate of rise was slow and becoming slower. River people hoped that dry weather would continue for a few more days to let the big stream dump its load into the still bigger Mississippi.

The Ohio still was five to ten feet out of its banks everywhere except in the Evansville, Ind., section. There it was close to bank-full. Nowhere was there serious property damage. Three deaths were indirectly blamed on the flood.

Weather men found "nothing but a suggestion of light showers Friday night or Saturday" to put more water in the river. Rivermen feared nothing but cloudbursts of prolonged heavy rains. The flood was made by three to six inches of rain from Sunday through Tuesday in many parts of the nine-state Ohio valley.

The American Red Cross said more than 3900 families were affected by the flood. It has assigned 37 national disaster workers to key spots to assist chapters in emergency relief work.

FORTY SHELTERS have been opened, said Harold B. Nearman, manager of the eastern area Red Cross.

The Second Army command at Ft. Meade, Md., has dispatched 2500 cots, 7500 blankets, stoves, tents, and other supplies to Red Cross chapters in the flooded areas, Nearman said.

Doctors Report Discovery of Substance To Aid in Recovery of Anemia Victims

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Discovery of a new substance in liver, which has proved in initial tests to be 8000 to 10,000 times more powerful than previous treatments for pernicious anemia, was announced today.

Investigators reported it in "Science" journal. They said they believe it may be the active substance—or one of the active substances—which has been sought for years to account for the fact that liver and liver-extract are effective in controlling this form of anemia.

Pernicious anemia—a blood disease—affects 50,000 Americans annually.

THE NEW SUBSTANCE is tentatively called vitamin B-12, and it was isolated in crystalline form from liver.

Used so far on only three patients, it has done this:

1. It has shown indications of restoring normal blood conditions even though the quantity of material injected was 8000 times less than the amount of an unpurified liver-extract required to produce comparable effects. The maximum observation period was only 23 days, but during that time steady improvement was shown.

2. It was demonstrated these same effects even though the quantity employed was 10,000 times less than that required when another pernicious anemia treatment—folic acid—is employed under the same conditions.

Isolation and use of the new material, and developments leading up to it, were reported in three separate articles in the journal by:

Dr. Edward L. Ricketts and a team of researchers of the Merck & Company laboratories, Rahway, N. J., where the substance was isolated; Dr. Mary S. Shorb of the University of Maryland; and Dr. Randolph West of Columbia university and Presbyterian hospital, N. Y.

Communists in Hawaii Reported at Minimum

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Communists in Hawaii are no more active than in the state. The Senate territories subcommittee was informed today.

That is the opinion of Robert L. Shivers, former FBI agent in Hawaii.

He testified at a hearing on statehood for Hawaii that there are only about five revolutionary Communists in the territory.

They have been able to recruit among Hawaii's half-million people only 100 to 150 Communist party members, not the revolutionary type, he said, adding that they've had no influence on the islands' legislature or government.

"We want to see our ranks closed in peacetime," Powell said. "We had some mixed units in wartime, why not do it now?"

Judge Withholds Decision As Lewis Trial Is Completed

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The John L. Lewis trial ended today except for the final judgment. Judge T. Alan Goldsborough kept Lewis and the country in suspense by putting off his decision until Monday morning.

He will announce then whether Lewis and the United Mine workers are guilty of contempt of court.

At a similar trial in 1946 the same Federal judge rocked the same defendants with a "guilty" judgment and heavy fines.

Lewis sat massively silent again today. He didn't so much as shake his bushy gray hair while Assistant Attorney General Graham Morison, summing up the government's case, thrust at him with accusations.

Morison, a short, dark-haired man 27 years younger than Lewis, said the issue is simple—the defendants on April 5 were handed a court order to end the soft coal strike and they let exactly one week pass before doing anything about it.

MORISON SAID John L. Lewis should be held responsible for his acts "as well as any other man." He told the attentive judge:

"That Lewis caused the miners to quit work March 15;

"That he 'well knew' he was causing it;

"That he 'took his time' about obeying the court order;

"And that he finally ordered the miners back to work April 12.

Morison asked for conviction of both civil and criminal contempt.

The union's lawyer, Welly K. Hopkins, declined to sum up the defendant's case, though Goldsborough almost begged him to make a final argument.

The judge said it would help the court, and be to the public interest, to hear both sides state their positions. But Hopkins respectfully said no. He limited himself to claiming merely that the record in the trial "falls completely" to establish a case of contempt.

GOLDSBOROUGH SIGHED and adjourned court until Monday.

Today's whole proceeding took less than half an hour.

As Morison held the attention of the crowd packed in the little courtroom, the soft coal industry was gradually getting back on its feet.

A sizeable majority of the nearly 400,000 soft-coal miners were back at work, heeding Lewis' telegram of Monday telling them that miners' pensions had been granted and they should return to work.

But many thousands still stayed home.

If Goldsborough decides to convict Lewis and the union Monday, he must then decide on the sentence—maybe the same day, maybe later. There is no legal limit to the fines or prison sentence he can impose for contempt.

Rape Slaying Denied; Varga Names Companion

ELKO, Nev., April 15 (AP)—The district attorney said today that Laszlo Varga, Hungarian war refugee, admitted taking part in the rape-slaying of a minister's wife, but blamed a "Joseph Basda" for the actual killing.

District Attorney Alexander Puccinelli said Varga's confession was whispered to him as the stubby, pockmarked defendant's preliminary hearing resumed this morning.

The district attorney abruptly recessed the hearing and took a statement from Varga.

According to Puccinelli, Varga admitted being present in Wells, Nev., and taking part in the rape, mutilation and bludgeoning. The victim was Mrs. Billie Rahe Morning, 22, pregnant young wife of a Wells minister who was absent on a church mission.

Bogota's plight has been complicated by the destruction of part of Buenaventura. The newspaper El Liberal said 60,000 tons of merchandise, mainly destined for Bogota, had either been destroyed or stolen by mobs who fired warehouses at the port city.

JEWIS CLAIM TWO VICTORIES IN HOLY LAND

Report 200 Arab Casualties Inflicted In Bitter Struggle

JERUSALEM, April 15 (AP)—Jewish sources declared today they had won a "decisive victory" over the Arab Yarmuk army of Northern Palestine and administered a personal defeat to its leader, Fawzi Bey Al Kaukji.

The Jews said 2000 Jewish fighters had inflicted 200 Arab casualties, captured seven of Fawzi Bey's field guns and were circling over the hills lining the famous plain of Armageddon in an effort to encircle the retreating Arabs.

Haganah, the Jewish militia, said these casualties numbered more than 100 killed. The Arabs brought reinforcements into the fighting, Haganah said, but were unable to break Jewish lines despite determined counter-attacks. Jewish casualties today were three killed and several wounded, Haganah said.

The Jewish militia claimed a second victory, saying it had driven the Arabs out of Camp Tel Letvinsky, former American military rest camp near Tel Aviv. British army reports said 20 Arabs were believed to have been killed or wounded in this battle.

(IN CAIRO, GRAVE concern was expressed at Arab league headquarters where Trans-Jordan's foreign minister, Fawzi Mulki Pasha, said he had received an urgent appeal for help from Fawzi Bey who reported he was encircled by 12,000 Jewish fighters.

(The Trans-Jordan official relayed the appeal to King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan and predicted the British-trained Trans-Jordan Arab legion, rated the most efficient Arab military force, would intervene on a large scale if Fawzi Bey was unable to extricate himself soon.

(Gen. Ismail Sawfat Pasha, Iraqi commander-in-chief of the Arab armies of liberation in Palestine, met in a hurried conference with the secretary general of the Arab league, and then left for Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, where he was reported to have arrived late in the afternoon.)

Censorship on News Of Italy Is Revealed

YORK, April 15 (AP)—Censorship in Italy was reported here today by the Gazette and Daily, which declared that airmail correspondence from its special European correspondent, now in Rome covering the forthcoming election, had been tampered with.

The newspaper said that an article by Don C. Matchan, the correspondent, had one part, apparently referring to Fascists, torn out and that another may have been deleted.

Truman Confident He'll Stay In White House 4 More Years

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—President Truman said jauntily today that he doesn't scare easily and that he'll be in the White House four more years.

Thus he smiled off political troubles besetting him in the South, New York and elsewhere.

He took a graver view of an intra-administration dispute over defense needs. He also expressed regret and surprise at the bloody revolt in the inter-American conference city of Bogota, Colombia.

Mr. Truman completed three years as President this week. The question whether he shall be re-nominated is one of bitter controversy within the Democratic party.

ONE SPOT WHERE some Democrats are bucking his nomination is New York City. A Henry A. Wallace man has won in a normally strong Democratic district there. Too, there has been sharp opposition from some New York Jewish groups to the administration's Palestine policy.

But Mr. Truman related that he'd had a secret meeting this week with Edward J. Flynn, Democratic national committeeman from New York, and Paul Fitzpatrick, the party's state chairman.

He talked politics with them, he said, and they went away happy. The picture was all right, he replied, when asked whether it was rosy or gray.

The question of Southern objections to his civil rights program came up. A girl reporter asked whether he has seen any evidence that some Southern states are coming back to Truman.

State Department Told Newsman Wasn't a Spy

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Correspondent Robert Magidoff was never a spy for the American embassy in Moscow, Ambassador W. Bedell Smith told the State department today.

Cecilia Nelson, native American who became a Russian citizen, accused the NBC correspondent of spying for the U. S. and using diplomatic pouches for his reports. Her charges were printed in the Soviet newspaper Izvestia. Smith reported from Moscow:

"I have insisted and insured that diplomatic, military and naval personnel of this mission restrict themselves implicitly and exclusively to legitimate and authorized sources of information.

"Mr. Magidoff informed me that he considered the allegations made by the Soviet citizen, Miss Nelson, and published in Izvestia, are entirely false.

Philippines Mourns Death Of President Manuel Roxas

MANILA, Friday, April 16 (AP)—President Manuel A. Roxas died unexpectedly of a heart attack last night at Clark field, where he had just delivered a strong attack on world Communism.

The body of the 56-year-old Roxas, first president of the Philippines republic arrived today on a funeral train from that U. S. air base 50 miles northwest of this sorrowing capital.

Elpidio Quirino, 57, vice president and foreign secretary, was advised of his chief's death and began drafting a message to the people. The new president was on a cutter in the Central Philippines when word reached him.

This capital was shocked and stunned by the news. Roxas had appeared in good health when he left yesterday for Clark field to make his first official visit to the big air base.

HE COLLAPSED shortly after declaring in a speech that the free peoples of the world "must stop and if necessary fight aggression by Communist fifth columns the world over."

Great crowds gathered at Tutuban railway station and lined the route of the cortege from there to Malacanang palace, the presidential residence two and a half miles away.

The train arrived at 8:55 a. m. The body of the late president was draped simply in the Philippine flag.

Mrs. Roxas, prostrated with grief, was helped off the train by Senate President Jose Avelino and assisted to her automobile by a daughter, Ruby Roxas.

POLICE RESERVES and presidential guards held back the throngs as they pressed toward the station platform. The president's body was carried to an ambulance by presidential guards.

As a color guard and a Philippine army band played "Hail to the Chief" and the Philippine national anthem, Mrs. Roxas stepped from her car. She lifted the flag over the body and kissed the forehead of her late husband.

The procession then started slowly for Malacanang palace. Khaki-clad honor guards in white gloves and black armbands lined the route.

Messages of condolences, headed by a statement from President Truman, poured in from all over the world.

Roxas was stricken at 2:30 p. m. yesterday and died at 10:10 p. m. His death was announced early today from Malacanang palace.

Quirino was expected to reach Manila some time before midnight. Quirino is aboard the Philippines government cutter Anemone, travelling in the Central Philippines near Cebu. Word of Roxas' death was radioed to him.

MANUEL ROXAS

New Leader Called Capable Diplomat

MANILA, Friday, April 16 (AP)—Elpidio Quirino, who becomes president of the Philippines upon the unexpected death of President Manuel Roxas, has served concurrently as vice president and foreign secretary of the republic since its beginning July 4, 1946.

Quirino, 57, is known as a capable diplomat.

He negotiated the military assistance pact with the United States and insisted on the provision in it that permanent U. S. installations eventually be withdrawn from the Manila metropolitan area.

Always pro-American, he has been a strict adherent of Roxas' policies, but his ascension to the presidency finds this politically-conscious republic in some confusion.

Dr. Jose Laurel, Japanese puppet president of the Philippines during the occupation, recently announced his availability for the presidency.

Husbands Eagerly Await Opening of Show Sponsored by Doe Club in Elks' Home

For weeks the husbands of members of the Doe club have been gathering in tight little groups, wondering what their wives will bring on them tomorrow night at the annual presentation of the Variety show in the ballroom in the Elks' home.

The variety show, strictly home talent and filled with music, dancing, humor and startling things that husbands sometimes do not wish to hear, is an annual affair and is always played to a capacity house.

Not the tiniest bit of information as to what is going on ever reaches the husband's ears until it is too late for them to stop the show.

MRS. MARY CHAPLIN is director of the show, while those participating include Mrs. Betty Hood, Mrs. Mabel High, Mrs. Shirley Reese, Mrs. Betty Miller, Mrs. Frances Whitacre, Mrs. Eleanor Halloway, Mrs. Marie Montague, Mrs. Florence Whitacre, Mrs. Rose Wiedenbaugh, Mrs. Agnes Kenner, Mrs. Nora St. Onge, Mrs. Virginia DeSoli, Mrs. Edith Garber and Mrs. Bessie Bechtel.

All benefits from the affair, which is sponsored by the charity and the ways and means committees, are used to support club charities.

Mrs. Betty Miller is chairman of the ways and means committee with Mrs. Marie Montague, co-chairman. Assisting will be Mrs. Virginia DeSoli.

Robert Shaner to Wed Esther Kratz Tomorrow

Miss Esther Kratz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kratz, Geigertown, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock will become the bride of Mr. Robert Shaner, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shaner, Pottstown RD 2, Harmonyville road, in the Geigertown Methodist church.

The Rev. Robert Beckley, pastor of the Germantown Methodist church, will perform the nuptials in open church. Organ music will be presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Weber, New Holland, while vocal selections will be presented by Mrs. Jean Dodge.

Serving as maid-of-honor will be a sister of the bride, Miss Adeline Kratz, while Miss Ellen Kline and Miss Betty Jean Murvade will be bridesmaids.

Dig your nails into a cake of soap before beginning gardening work. It will keep dirt from accumulating and can be easily rinsed off after the job is done.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES

Today Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tyas, 443 Walnut street, seven years.

After a vacuum bottle has held food, first rinse with lukewarm water, then fill with clean warm soapy water and shake up or soak for an hour or so, advises the Department of Agriculture. Any traces of food should be removed with a bottle brush. Finally, rinse with clear lukewarm water and then with water containing a little chlorine. Turn upside down to drain, dry and air. Corks and screws should be scrubbed with hot water.

Jo Anne Glutz Becomes Spring Bride In Beautiful All-White Wedding Rites

The beautiful all-white wedding of Miss Jo Anne Glutz and Mr. Albert D. Derecola was performed recently before an altar decorated with snap dragons, lilies and palms in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church.

The Rev. John Naja, rector, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Glutz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Glutz, 1156 Center avenue, and Mr. Derecola is the son of Mrs. Rose Derecola, 366 Cherry street.

Bridal music was furnished by Miss Helen Szanla, vocalist, who was accompanied by Mrs. Harriet Welsh, organist. Prior to the departure of the bride party to the church, violin selections were played at the home of the bride by Mr. Peter Witt, of Washington, D. C.

THE BRIDE, WHO was given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a heavy ivory satin gown featuring a fine net illusion neckline joining the satin gown below the shoulders, a tight fitting bodice, long sleeves which were pointed at the wrists and a full skirt. Tiny satin buttons marched down the back of the dress, meeting a full double bustle. A long graceful wide train completed the gown.

Her fingertip length veil, which fell from a crowning coronet of seed pearls, was edged with six inches of fine imported lace, and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and roses, with streamers which had white rose buds, green ferns and sweet peas attached to them.

Miss Pauline Peters, of Reading, served as the maid of honor, and she was gown in a white chiffon dress featuring an illusion neckline, low shoulders, a fitted bodice and a full gathered skirt. Her spread bouquet consisted of red and white roses, and she wore a matching head dress of red and white rose buds.

BRIDESMAIDS WERE Mrs. Josephine Hromosco, sister of the bride, and Miss Geraldine Derecola, sister of the bridegroom. Both wore white gowns styled like that of the maid of honor, and wear pieces of solid red rose buds. They carried solid red rose spread bouquets.

Little Miss Virginia Ann Hromosco, a niece of the bride, acted as flower girl, and looked adorable in a gown of white tulle with ruffles of net starting at the waist and falling to the hemline of the gown. Net ruffles also surrounded the low shoulders. Her net bonnet was heart shaped and she carried a basket of mixed flowers and dropped rose petals while walking down the aisle, which was covered with a white velvet carpet.

Master William Snead, a nephew of the bride, and ring bearer, carried the rings on a decorated satin pillow. Duties of best man were performed by Mr. John Raymond, cousin of the bridegroom, while the ushers were Mr. Daniel Glutz, brother of the bride, and Mr. Stanley Nedzia.

MRS. GLUTZ, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe dress with black accessories. The mother of the bridegroom also chose a black crepe dress and black accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a buffet dinner was served for friends and relatives in St. Peter's hall.

Attired in a hunter green gaberdine suit and a black and white check topper with hat and other accessories to match, Mrs. Derecola left on a honeymoon trip with her husband to New York City. She also wore a gardenia corsage from the bride's bouquet.

Upon their return, the couple will reside at the home of the bride's parents, 1156 Center avenue.

Guests attended from Reading, New Jersey, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, Lebanon, Phoenixville, Stowe, Norristown and Pottstown. Both the bride and the bridegroom attended Pottstown High school. Mrs. Derecola operates a local beauty shop and Mr. Derecola is employed at the Spicer-Manu-facturing corporation.

Total of 157 Years of Married Life Celebrated by Three Pottstown Couples

Two wedding anniversaries are being celebrated today, that of Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Shaner, Pottstown RD 3, who are observing their golden wedding anniversary with open house for their friends and relatives, and that of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin U. Betz, 389 Spruce street, who are observing their 52nd anniversary quietly with a dinner in the evening given by their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaner were married on a brilliantly sunny day in the Transfiguration Lutheran church, with the late Rev. O. P. Smith performing the nuptials. She was the former Cora Hoffecker, daughter of the late John S. and Mary A. Hoffecker. At that time she lived in the Hoffecker home, next door to where the couple now reside. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Enos H. Shaner, Cedarville.

Following the wedding, the couple left for Philadelphia, where he worked for three years as a stur builder, after which the couple purchased the farm where they now reside and he has been spending the rest of his life at farming.

THEY ARE THE parents of two children, George, who is married to the former Verna Ewing, Pottstown RD 2, and John, married to the former Lila Kulp, South Pottstown. They have three grandchildren.

Both of the couple are in good health and active. Mr. Shaner, though living retired, assists his son on his farm, while Mrs. Shaner does all her own work.

Last night the children held a party for the couple in their home amid decorations of gold and white. White candles in gold candlesticks and a huge white and gold wedding cake graced the table. Crepe paper in the same color motif completed the decorations. Large bouquets of Spring flowers were artfully placed through the rooms.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. John Shaner and son, John; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ewing, Mr. Elwood Ewing, Miss Esther Krats, and Mr. and Mrs. George Shaner and children, Robert and Jane.

MR. AND MRS. Irvin U. Betz have made no particular plans for the day, but will be entertained in the evening with a dinner given by their children.

They were married in St. Paul's Reformed church by the late Rev. E. L. Mischler. He has lived retired for the past five years after operating a restaurant at King and Hanover streets for 35 years.

They are the parents of ten children, of which the following seven are living: Mrs. Claude Rinehart, Mrs. Russell Frain, Mr. Elmer Betz, Mrs. Austin Sundstrom, Mrs. Nickolas Lenhart, Mr. Ralph Betz and Mrs. Josephine Foley.

YESTERDAY Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sterley celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary quietly. Mrs. Sterley made a trip to visit her granddaughter, while her husband tinkered around the house.

Mrs. Sterley is 81 while her husband is 79. They are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Kink, 464 Hanover street, two grandchildren, a third having been killed in World War II in Italy, and two great-grandchildren.

They too, were married on a sunny Spring day which followed a week of rainy weather. They always have liked to believe the sun broke through to shine just for them.

Mr. Sterley is retired now after having been employed with the Bailey Hardware company for most of his life.

New Class of Candidates To Be Initiated April 28

Plans were made for the initiation of a new class of candidates, April 28, at the regular meeting of the Lady Reminders last night in the I. O. O. F. building. At that time a covered dish social will also be held.

Special pig-in-the-boxes, donated by Mrs. Clara Sell and Mrs. Betty Fizz, were won by Mrs. Sell and Mrs. Alice Grimes. Regular pigs were donated by Miss Eleanor Coleman and Mrs. Lorraine Smith, were won by Mrs. Ella McClafferty and Mrs. Sara Ellis.

Margaret M. Tyson Becomes Bride in Chapel Hills, N. C.

Beneath an arbor of dogwood, Miss Margaret M. Tyson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tyson, 58 West Main street, South Pottstown, became the bride of Mr. George F. Wanger, son of Mrs. Mary E. Wanger, Rahns Hill, on Wednesday afternoon in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. George N. Harward, of Chapel Hills, N. C.

The Rev. Harward, an uncle of the bridegroom, performed the double ring ceremony, and Mrs. Jane Wright, pianist, presented several appropriate selections.

Miss Tyson looked lovely in a lime green suit with a short styled jacket nipped at the waistline, and wearing a large Bertha collar. Accessories were of black and white and she wore a corsage of lilies of the valley.

MRS. HARWARD, aunt of the bridegroom and matron of honor, wore a black crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of mixed flowers. Duties of best man were performed by J. Wanger Harward, cousin of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Tyson, was attired in a black sheer dress trimmed in aqua and black and white accessories, while Mrs. Wanger chose a navy blue sheer jacket suit with white and blue accessories.

A reception was held in the Harward home following the wedding, after which the couple left on an undisclosed honeymoon trip.

When they return, Mr. and Mrs. Wanger will reside at the home of the bride's parents in South Pottstown.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ashwell B. Harward and son, Ashwell Bennett Jr. and Miss Roxada Harward, all of Chapel Hills; Mrs. Aaron Thalmer, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wanger Jr., all of Pottstown.

Advice to the Lovelorn ★ ★ ★ A Husband Who Wants a Divorce

SOMETIMES it is easier to live with a husband or wife who has a serious fault, or commits a big wrong, than one who merely makes life miserable for the other in small ways.

Four years of a wife who nags and goes into tantrums has driven to distraction a young husband who writes me as follows:

"I am 32 years old and have been married for eight years. Four of these years were spent overseas, which should have helped some, but I guess only made it worse, if possible.

"I have left home, four times, and each time my wife has begged me to come back, promising to do better. But it's always the same thing all over again. She nags and then goes into a tantrum in which I have to dodge anything from a knife to cups. Who wants to fight all the time? I don't, that's sure.

"I have a good job; she gets the check and I have a hard time getting a few cigarettes. I have asked her to divorce me or let me divorce her but she won't, because of our faith. I feel that we are committing more of a sin living as we do than to be separated, as we have no children.

"I know I'm not perfect, but I know she doesn't love me. I've lost all love for her and I'd go to the far end of the earth to get away from what I've been going home to all my married life. Is there any state I can get a divorce in, as I feel it is the only way out?"

DISTRESSING AS this man's situation is, I am afraid he is going to find a good many obstacles in the way of divorcing his wife.

In the first place, the fact that they have been brought up in a religious faith which does not countenance divorce is not to be brushed off lightly. And in the second place, the laws of few states permit one person to divorce another merely because of a bad temper, so that unless he is sufficiently well off to finance a trip to some state where bad temper can come under the legal head of incompatibility or "cruel and inhuman treatment," he is likely to find his hands tied.

This does not mean, however, that one should go on living indefinitely with a partner so violently ill-tempered as his wife appears to be. If divorce is not feasible, a legal separation may be, and this might solve the immediate problem.

Before making any definite decision, however, I think this husband might well talk with a qualified marriage counselor who will thoroughly understand his problem and be able to give him sound advice. He can find the same of such a counselor in his vicinity by writing to Mr. Lester W. Dearborn, The American Association of Marriage Counselors, 316 Huntington avenue, Boston, Mass.

'Miss Classified'

When custard is being baked the custard cups should be placed in a pan of hot water; this helps to maintain an even temperature throughout the whole custard. If the water in the pan boils, the temperature is too high and will cause curdling.

Winning the first trick with the spade A and clearing trumps then with the K, he led the heart 2 and stuck in the 9. When it surprisingly won, his hopes mounted. Then he led toward the club Q, but the K killed it and West returned the club 2. After the A won that, he came to his hand with the spade J to the Q and led the heart 3. With all doubts eliminated, he coasted home on the last three trumps. If everything had gone at its worst, a declarer in that contract might have dropped two trumps in hearts, one in diamonds and one in clubs.

STREAMS HIGH, MUDDY—BUT ANGLERS LUCKY WITH TROUT

By ELMER PANOC
(Mercury Sports Editor)

High, swift, muddy streams, temperatures under 50 degrees Fahrenheit and cloudy skies are supposed to keep trout away from baited hooks, but 19 local anglers overcame the weather jinx yesterday by hooking the limit (10 trout) as the season officially opened.

After four consecutive days of rain, only the most optimistic fishermen climbed out of bed early yesterday to dip their lines in the numerous trout streams in the Pottstown area. These optimistic anglers, however, were the ones telling the fish stories last night, while the fishermen who thought the weather wasn't good for the opening day were doing the listening.

When the season opened at five o'clock yesterday morning, the weather was far from favorable. As the hours passed, the temperature started to climb and the clouds disappeared from the skies. A warm sun made fishing enjoyable during the afternoon.

Fair and warmer weather is predicted today, which will probably have those anglers who missed the first day packing the banks of the local streams seeking trout.

REPORTS from various local fishermen revealed that Pine creek was clear and a little above normal yesterday. Beaver Run was clear but high, while French creek was high and muddy. Manatawny creek was also high and muddy. Many anglers also said that lines with lead sinkers and hooks with worms as bait were good for fishing yesterday. It seems as though most of the trout stayed near the bottom of the streams and waited for food to come.

No accidents on opening day were reported up to a late hour last night, but one funny incident happened along Ironstone creek in Pine Forge where many anglers tried their luck.

Chester Frech, veteran angler from Stowe, picked out a good spot to drop his line with his companion, Carl Endy, 338 York street. After a few minutes, Frech felt a pull on his line and reeled it in only to find a large "sucker" hanging on the hook.

AFTER A GOOD LAUGH, Frech got serious and started looking for trout. Last night on his return home, Frech was carrying the limit, ten trout. Endy also returned home with the limit of brook and rainbow trout.

French creek, Rock Run, Ironstone creek and the East branch of the Perkiomen were crowded with fishermen throughout the day. Some of the anglers were hooking trout measuring over 12 inches in length, but quite a few reported that many fish were under five inches.

A party of five young fishermen went to the upper part of Rock Run yesterday morning to test their skill, and after two hours of fishing each angler had the limit.

Irvn Fredericks Jr. hooked eight brook and two rainbow trout and Ken Hanley caught nine brook and one rainbow. Walter Carroll, Ed Grebs and Mel Newman each hooked ten brook trout, ranging from 7 1/2 to 12 inches in length.

FREDERICKS SAID some of the boys used worms for bait and others used flies.

Da- Yarrow spent the first day fishing in Ironstone creek in Pine Forge. He returned home with the limit in brook and rainbow trout.

Flood Shiner reported catching the limit in the upper part of Rock Run and at the falls of French creek. He returned home with seven brook and three rainbow trout.

Among George Rittenhouse's catch of seven trout was a 13-inch brook trout which he hooked in French creek. Carl Bechtel got five trout, three browns and two rainbows. One of the brown trout measured 18 1/2 inches in length, largest trout reported yesterday.

Bill Reintner was only one-half inch behind Bechtel, catching an 18-inch rainbow in French creek yesterday morning. Al Rhymer and his son Bill, each returned home with ten trout from French creek. Some were 14 and 15 inches in length.

HARRY, LESTER and Dick Thompson tried their luck in French creek. Harry hooked two trout. Lester caught eight and Dick returned home with six. David Wadsworth got a 12-incher in Manatawny creek yesterday morning, while "Buck" Moore pulled a 14-incher from French creek.

Gerald T. Boyle, veteran Queen street angler hooked six brook and four rainbows in Beaver Run. One of the fish measured 13 inches in length and weighed three-fourths of a pound.

While fishing in Beaver Run and French creek, Bob Matthews got the limit in brook and rainbow. Amos Jones reported catching five trout in his first attempt, and Tom Nagle reported hooking four in the Manatawny.

Two trout were pulled from the Manatawny by Sam Garber Jr., and another was pulled out by Danny Ludwig. The West branch of the Perkiomen provided good fishing for Dan Rothenberger, Boyertown. He returned from a day of fishing with the limit, while Harold Hartman brought back three trout.

JAMES BECKER is telling the story of the 15-inch brown trout he hooked in the Perkiomen yesterday and Frank Keim's showing friends how he hooked seven brown trout in the West branch of the Perkiomen.

The poor weather didn't bother Bill Bohner as he caught five brown trout in the Perkiomen yesterday. Jim Petrowicz, president of the Boyertown Rod and Gun club, caught five trout yesterday but still claimed that fishing was "very poor."

Lloyd Koch, John Koren, Hun Seeders and Ralph Bush each hooked the limit of ten trout in the French creek yesterday, but Dick Antrim was only lucky enough to catch two. Richard Cleaver came back from his fishing trip with only one trout.

Other lucky fishermen were Joe Basile, Leonard Minotto, James Minotto and Tom Minotto. This party tried their skill in hooking trout at French creek. Basile hooked five, Leonard Minotto caught four, Jim Minotto got one and Tom Minotto got four.

Al Basile's luck stopped at four trout after a few hours at Forge-dale. John Minotto reported hooking five trout in French creek and his companion, Lou Vanore, reported catching two.

Boy, What a Sucker!

Chester Frech, veteran Stowe angler, laughs as he looks at the sucker which he caught while fishing for trout in the Ironstone creek at Pine Forge yesterday. Frech, however, wasn't a "sucker" for going fishing yesterday, because he returned home with the limit (ten trout) despite the fact that streams were above normal and muddy. Also shown laughing at Frech's catch is Carl Endy, 338 North York street, who also caught ten trout yesterday.

2 More Teams Admitted Into Softball Loop

Two more teams entered the Pottstown City-Industrial Softball league last night, bringing the total of clubs in the new softball circuit to ten.

Francis Donnon, Pottstown Recreation commission official, announced last night that no more teams will be taken into the league. Plans call for ten teams, and now league officials will start working out plans for the 1948 season.

The two teams entering the league at last night's meeting in the recreation commission office were the Carlini AC and the New York store.

The league constitution and by-laws were drawn up at last night's meeting, and the teams are now awaiting the schedule for the season. Recreation commission officials said all league games will be played on The Hill far fields unless another field can be acquired. The season is scheduled to start Monday, May 3.

11 New Entries Boost Field for 500-Mile Race

INDIANAPOLIS, April 15 (AP)—Eleven new entries today boosted the field to 51 cars for the 32nd annual 500-mile race at Indianapolis Motor speedway, May 31.

Speedway President Wilbur Shaw said he expected eight or nine more nominations post-marked before the deadline at midnight tonight.

Shaw, himself a three-time winner of the Memorial Day race, said at least 40 of the cars are capable of sustained speed above 120 miles per hour and he believed it would take a qualifying speed of 123 mph to earn one of the 33 starting positions.

The field includes 10 brand new American cars, all of the faster cars from the 1947 race and several race-tested chassis with new engines. There are 31 four-cylinder cars, 14 eights, three sixes, one twelve, one sixteen, and a two-cylinder steamer.

No foreign drivers or car owners are included in the entry list, but six foreign-built racers will compete. Best regarded of the imports are the veteran Maserati in which Shaw won two speedway victories and the Don Lee Mercedes special.

Milo Steinborn put up a game fight but lost to the No. 6 Panzer in seven minutes, 28 seconds, and the No. 3 Panzer put an end to the match by trouncing Mercer in three minutes, 53 seconds.

Pottstown's three points came on victories in the No. 2 and No. 3 singles matches and in the No. 1 doubles match. Don Ziegler was the only player to win twice for the Trojans.

Ziegler, who starred on the basketball court during the Winter, put the Trojans in front by winning in the No. 3 singles match in straight sets. ## Pitt Steelers Name Michelosen As Successor to Sutherland

PITTSBURGH, April 15 (AP)—Johnny Michelosen has agreed to succeed his late friend and mentor, the late Dr. John B. (Jock) Sutherland, as head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

At 32, Jock's former first assistant, will be the youngest head tutor in the National Football league. He said he would sign a two-year contract, terms of which were not revealed.

Sutherland died Sunday following two emergency operations for removal of a brain tumor. His death climaxed one of the most successful football coaching careers on the American gridiron.

Michelosen, as a player and as Sutherland's top assistant, helped the taciturn Scot achieve some of his most outstanding successes—in both collegiate and pro ranks.

THE NEW COACH played varsity football at the University of Pittsburgh in the 1935-36-37 season. The next year, Sutherland's last season at Pitt, he was an assistant coach. Sutherland quit after the university adopted a "de-emphasis" program. Michelosen followed suit.

Two years later Sutherland entered pro football as coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers, then in the National Football league. Michelosen joined him both staying in Brooklyn two seasons. Both joined the Navy in World War II.

Michelosen served as an athletic instructor and was not discharged until 1945. A year later, when Sutherland accepted the head coaching post of the Steelers, Mi-chelosen was again at his side as first assistant. He occupied the same capacity the past season.

SUTHERLAND had a five-year contract due to expire in 1951. Many persons had expected Sutherland to retire then handing over the reins to Michelosen. Sutherland once was quoted as saying to his assistant: "You know as much about football as I do."

Michelosen is a native of Ambridge, Pa. Married, he is the father of two children.

Wet Grounds Force Bears, Trojans to Postpone Games

Although the rains came to a halt and the sun's rays reached the earth for the first time this week, baseball fields remained in bad condition yesterday, and Pottstown and Boyertown were forced to postpone their games.

The Trojans, scheduled to open their season with Coatesville, pushed the game back to May 14. Boyertown postponed its tussle with Amity until next week.

Coach Ed Good's Trojans will now open the 1948 season Monday afternoon against Downingtown on the Whipples' field. Boyertown, already with two games in the record book, get back into action this afternoon—facing Mohnton in a game that was postponed from Monday afternoon.

Good said yesterday that if the skies would have cleared a little sooner and there would have been a little more sunshine, the field would have dried enough for a game. The Trojan mentor also postponed practice yesterday because of the wet grounds.

COACH WARREN FRY, of Boyertown, said yesterday that he still intends to use Paul Moatz on the mound for the Bears this week. The southpaw will probably get the starting assignment for today's game with Mohnton at four o'clock.

Spring City, rained out twice this week, will get back into action against Downingtown in a non-league tussle this afternoon at Spring City. Game time is set for two o'clock.

Charles Wise, Spring City coach, said he plans to send Dick Mull, of no-hit fame, to the hill this afternoon. Larry Davis will be ready for relief duty if Mull needs help.

Cedar Crest Students Return After Strike Over Dean Resigning

ALLENTOWN, April 15—Assured of a hearing before the board of trustees next Tuesday, 382 girls—the entire student body at Cedar Crest college—returned to their classes today after a one-day "flash" strike in protest against the resignation of Dean Mary Louise Creitz.

The decision to resume studies was reached late last night after the trustees agreed to meet with a

Well Known Here

Miss Creitz is a sister of the Rev. George H. Greitz, who formerly was pastor of St. John's Reformed church, Pottstown, and of St. Paul's church, Stowe, until he accepted a call to an Eastern church in 1930.

She is a daughter of the late Dr. Charles E. Creitz, for many years pastor of St. Paul's Memorial Reformed church, Reading.

She became a member of the Cedar Crest college staff in 1929.

committee of the student council and class leaders to discuss the matter.

Meanwhile, as campus activities returned to normal, scores of telegrams were being received by college authorities from parents of the girls, who asked that a complete investigation be made into the dean's resignation.

Miss Creitz, whom the students call "the spirit of the college," unwittingly precipitated the strike Tuesday night when she told a gathering of students her resignation had been accepted. She attributed the move to "clashes of personalities and differences of opinions."

Dr. Dale H. Moore, college president, denied there had been any clash of personalities, but admitted there had been differences of opinion. "The same as in any other organizations."

The program was sponsored by the District of Columbia Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Spring Membership Drive to Be Launched By YMCA Boys' Department Tomorrow

The first annual Spring membership campaign of the Pottstown YMCA Boys' department gets under way tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock when the boy workers assemble in the downstairs department for instructions.

The campaign is being operated entirely by boys. The general chairman of the campaign is Edward Brenner, North Logan street, who is chairman of the membership committee of the Hi-Y club of the Pottstown High school.

Brenner was the local boy who represented this district in the recent Hi-Y model legislature at Harrisburg. He was a member of the House of Representatives in the YMCA youth and government program, and is a Junior in school.

THE SPEAKER AT the first meeting on Saturday will be Don Rigg, a member of the board of directors of the YMCA, a member of the boys' work committee.

The goal of the campaign is 100 members. There will be three report meetings of number of memberships secured by the boy workers, on Saturday, April 24; Wednesday, April 28; and Saturday, May 1.

A prize of two softballs has been offered by J. R. Sotter to the two high individuals at the ### first report meeting.

A trip by chartered bus to see a big-league baseball game at Shibe Park is offered to the 30 boys who obtain the most members.

There are 16 teams of five boys each, making a total of 80 boy workers. An adult advisor is assigned to each team to aid the boys. All solicitations, however, will be made by boys and only boy-memberships will be secured.

3 Squadrons of B29s Arrive in Germany

FUERSTENFELDBRUCK, Germany, April 15 (P)—Twenty-eight B29 heavy bombers arrived here today on a direct training flight from the United States.

As soon as they landed on this field, Gen. Lucius D. Clay asked that the squadrons make a sortie over Berlin.

The request from Clay was reported authoritatively by officers who asked their names be withheld.

This was interpreted as a move by the American commander in Europe to show Berlin what a squadron of the giant bombers looks like. Nothing of this size ever was used in the European war.

Musical Program By Students Marks Rotary Club Meeting

A program of Spanish-American music was presented to 75 members of the Pottstown Rotary club last night by five students of the Perkiomen school, Pennsylvania.

The group sang in unison, solo numbers were sung, and there also were piano selections at the Rotary club meeting in the Elks home.

The five students, Henrique Soto Paris, Blingen de Arbeloa, Jose Caban, Gaston Prado Ramirez and Luis Castillo, all from Central and South American countries, were accompanied by the Rev. Alfred White, director of religious studies at the preparatory school.

President Karl Schumacher, who was in charge of last night's meeting, urged as many members as possible to attend the 179th District conference, to be held in Atlantic City, N. J., Sunday and Monday.

Delegates to the conference are S. Ernest Kulp, James H. Nottle and Charles J. Custer.

The 179th district includes Montgomery, Philadelphia, Chester, Bucks, Berks and Lehigh counties.
